TUESDAY 7:00am–9:15am

Introduction to Historical Theology (Essentials), Philip Mwaniki, EABST 1

Required for All programmes — Binder Required*

An analysis of the history and development of the Church's doctrinal teaching. The student will then build a contemporary Didache, based on the early church's manual for establishing believers in the essentials of the apostles' teaching. Each student's "modern didache" will be founded solidly upon the faith delivered by the apostles, seasoned by the historical effort of the church, and be eminently relevant to our present cultural situations.

Latter Prophets, Jeremy Pittsley, EABST 2

Elective, Required for Theology programmes — Binder Required*

Prerequisites: Interpreting I*

A study of the books of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and "The Twelve" minor prophets—the books classified as the Latter Prophets in the Hebrew canon. This course will develop a theology of the Latter Prophets as a whole that respects the literary design of the Latter Prophets as a section of the Old Testament canon and identifies the careful crafting of the authors' theological ideas. The goal is to establish and compare the diverse themes of this literary corpus and to ascertain the unity that underlies these themes. The primary emphasis will be on the analysis of the text of Scripture, especially key texts, along with the theology that emerges from these texts. The student will develop a canonical intent statement that integrates the overall intention and literary design for the Latter Prophets as a canonical section and the role that the Latter Prophets play in relation to the other sections of the Old Testament canon.

TUESDAY 10:30am–12:30pm

Habits of the Heart, Andrew Matoke, EABST 1

Required for All programmes — Binder Required*

A study of the historical understanding of spiritual formation, who is responsible for its development, and how it can be encouraged. Since each believer is called by God to worship through personal holiness, all believers must embrace sound doctrine and establish habits that undergird life and ministry. This course reveals the essential convictions regarding the role of sound doctrine in the lifelong pursuit of purity and wisdom and the disciplines necessary to pursue spiritual formation.
